WEEEEKEND ROUND UP

If the task of planning out the Thanksgiving menu seems daunting, not to mention the beginning of the holiday/shopping season, take a break at some of the music, culture, arts and health events on this weekend's menu:

■ Southwestern College music Professor Berke McKelvey will direct a Harvest Jazz Festival, 8 p.m. tomorrow, Mayan Hall, 900 Otay Lakes Road, Chula Vista. Tickets: adults, $7; students and seniors, $5. Information: (619) 482-6404.

■ "Honor Our Warriors," will be the theme of the fifth annual Native American Women's Intertribal Circle Pow Wow, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow, Balboa Park Recital Hall. The free event will include drumming, traditional dancing, native costumes, food booths and arts and crafts. In addition, a '50s Dance fund raiser will begin at 6 p.m. Admission: $5.

■ Miss Zodiac Universe Pageant, 7 p.m. tomorrow, Craftsman Hall, 3909 Centre St. Contestants representing the 12 astrological signs will participate in costume, swimsuit, evening gown presentation and a question and answer interview. Tickets: advance, $12; at the door, $15. Proceeds will benefit the Asian Pacific Islander Community AIDS Project, Project Unity and the SDSU Chapter of A.B. Samahan. Information: (619) 652-8224.

■ A group of artists participating in inSITE97, a public arts project, will host a community celebration in Poblado Maclovio Rojas Marquez, a village on the outskirts of Tijuana, 3 p.m. tomorrow. The event will feature music, refreshments, a parade and preview of the artwork the group has been working on in that village. Free bus transportation will be available at 2 p.m. from the Otay Mesa border crossing. Information: Danielle Reo at (619) 544-1482.

■ More than 15 speakers will give talks about using natural remedies for health and well-being at the second annual Wellness Fair sponsored by Henry's Marketplace, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. tomorrow, Handlery Hotel, 950 Hotel Circle North. The event also will include information booths, demonstrations, food sampling and raffles. Seating is limited for the talks; preregistration is encouraged and may be done in the nutrition department at local Henry's stores.

MISCELLANEOUS

The San Diego Gulls will host a food drive to benefit St. Vincent de Paul Village. People who bring one or more cans of food to today's hockey game against the Idaho Steelheads will receive a San Diego Gulls championship poster. Game time is 7:05 p.m. at the San Diego Sports Arena. Tickets range from $5 to $12. Information: (619) 224-4625.
