In Tijuana, considered by many
the capital of dentistry,
we spoke with countless dentists and even attended an international dentistry conference.

Interviews

Translate: English to Spanish

According to the border dentists and U.S. clients that we spoke with, the primary reasons that U.S. citizens travel across the border for dental care are:

1. Affordability
2. Quality of attention
3. Consistency in having the same dentist every visit

Read the transcripts of the interviews with Border Dentists:

Dr. Acosta discusses US misperceptions of Mexico and the diversity of his patients.

Dr. Felix tells us about the most common procedures done on the border, and reasons why US citizens travel to Mexico for dental care.

Dr. Dychter comes clean in so far as problems with Mexican dentistry - fraudulence and malpractice.

Dr. Morales explains why dentists from all over Mexico move their practice to the border and criticizes US health insurance companies.
